Investor News No. 59/2026: Dataproces enters into new advisory agreement in Germany

Through its collaboration with Lexis & Rother, Dataproces has secured a new advisory assignment for a German municipality. This is the Company's seventh advisory assignment through the partnership.

The assignment comprises an update of the municipality's school development plan and an analysis of school premises and facilities. The work will support the municipality's future school planning.

The agreement supports Dataproces' approach to the German market, combining local partners' expertise and established customer relationships with the Company's own capabilities in data, analysis and consulting.

The partnership with and acquisition of activities from Lexis & Rother were announced in company announcement no. 10/2026 of 9 June 2026. Previous advisory sales through the collaboration were described, among others, in investor news no. 46/2026 of 5 October 2026.

The agreement does not change the Company's financial guidance for the 2026/27 financial year.
