CONSTANTLY NOWHERE TOUR 2026

EU/UK DATES ANNOUNCED

Today, acclaimed transcendent singer, songwriter, and subversive performance artist, Poppy, unveils details for her highly anticipated Constantly Nowhere tour across the EU/UK, with tickets available from October 31 at 10 AM local time.

The tour news follows the release of a new single, 'Unravel', via Sumerian Records. 'Unravel' is Poppy at her most vulnerable, fusing haunting vocals and intimate lyrics that culminate in a high-octane, passionate chorus. With each new release, Poppy continuously cements herself as a boundary-pushing artist paving her own experimental metalcore lane. 'Unravel' was produced by Jordan Fish and co-written by Poppy and Jordan Fish.

The accompanying 'Unravel' visualizer captured Poppy as she comes face to face with a tornado in the distance. The video was directed by Sam Cannon, a longstanding collaborator who also directed the visualizers for Negative Spaces.

Poppy is having a monumental year. 'Suffocate,' her collaboration with Knocked Loose, was nominated for Best Metal Performance at the 2025 GRAMMY Awards. She previously made history in 2021 as the first-ever female solo nominee in the category for her solo track 'BLOODMONEY.' From performance art provocateur (see new variety show Improbably Poppy), to video director, to sci-fi graphic novel author, to a globe-travelling recording artist whose songbook encompasses anything from brutal metal breakdowns and snappy '60s bubblegum, to trap-pop and grunge-punk, absolutely nothing has been off-limits when it comes to Poppy masterfully executing her varied artistic vision.

'Unravel' follows an enigmatic cover of WHAM's holiday favourite 'Last Christmas,' exclusively for Spotify, and a musical tour de force in collaboration with Amy Lee and Courtney LaPlante titled 'End of You.' Upon release, 'End of You' was immediately met with widespread praise.

Poppy recently finished the second leg of her They're All Around Us tour, continuing a nearly year-long celebration of her critically acclaimed album Negative Spaces. Next, Poppy joins Linkin Park as support for several South American shows.
