

NorthSide adds another 10 names to next year's poster including The Smile, Slowdive and more.

Last week, the Danish festival revealed Massive Attack, Troye Sivan, Kaytranada, and Amyl & The Sniffers among others.

Following the first round of announcements from Denmark's NorthSide, the festival now reveals another 10 names scheduled to play at next year's edition.

The Smile have recently revealed details of their forthcoming album Wall Of Eyes set for release in January on XL Recordings. The new album is the follow-up to the band's 2022 debut LP A Light For Attracting Attention which received critical acclaim from the likes of The Guardian, Pitchfork, and Rolling Stone to name a few. With the city of Aarhus often referred to in Danish as "The City of Smiles", NorthSide seems like the perfect fit for The Smile's next Danish festival play.

Shoegaze-pioneers Slowdive are also among the 10 new additions. They've already sold out their forthcoming two headline shows in Copenhagen following the release of their brand-new record everything is alive in September.

Besides from a handful of domestic talents, today's announcement also includes the boundary-breaking multi-talent Jehnnny Beth, Irish post-punkers The Clockworks, the Latin American-inspired indie-folk singer and songwriter Blanco White, and finally Long Beach rapper Vince Staples who'll be joining other genre-bending hip hop acts already announced such as Coi Leray and 070 Shake on the lineup.

Full-festival tickets for NorthSide 2024 are on sale at northside.dk. Day-tickets go on sale in the new year where more acts will also be announced.
