

Lenny Kravitz announced for Tinderbox 2024

The icon was originally scheduled for the 2020-edition of Tinderbox, that got cancelled due to Covid. Now, he's back on the poster and with a new album on the horizon.

Denmark's Tinderbox has already announced the likes of David Guetta & Morten present Future Rave, Avril Lavigne, Kaizers Orchestra, Dimitri Vegas & Like Mike, and many more acts for next year's festival. Now, the 4 times GRAMMY winner Lenny Kravitz has been added to the lineup.

Lenny Kravitz is gearing up for the release of his forthcoming 12th studio album Blue Electric Light set for release in March 2024. He's already shared the explosive lead single "TK421" and recently featured on a new track with the Korean DJ and producer Peggy Gou.

Lenny Kravitz has sold 40 million albums worldwide. He was recently recognized by the CFDA with their "Fashion Icon Award" and was also selected as a 2023 Hollywood Walk of Fame inductee.

- We're extremely happy to have Lenny Kravitz back on the poster, after the pandemic forced us to cancel in 2020. Lenny Kravitz is one of the most inspiring artists of our time and continues to put his mark on the global music scene. We can't wait to see what kind of magic will appear when he takes the stage at Tinderbox next summer, says Festival CEO Brian Nielsen.

Full-festival tickets for Tinderbox 2024 are on sale at tinderbox.dk and more acts are to be announced.

Tinderbox takes place in the historic city of Odense, Denmark from June 27th – 29th 2024.
