

Symposium on Armenia: Safeguarding Sovereignty

THE DANISH PARLIAMENT, CHRISTIANSBORG

MARCH 20, 2025, 01:30-04:00 PM

Overall Questions:

- How should we assist Armenia – political, military, and humanitarian assistance?
- How should we promote the issue of assisting Armenia throughout the rest of Europe?
- Is it possible for Denmark and the Faroe Islands to follow other Western nations (e.g., Sweden, Germany, France, Switzerland, USA) in recognizing the Armenian genocide, and what would be the benefit of such recognition?
- How can we reach international accountability for the forcible displacement of the Nagorno Karabakh (Artsakh) people and prevent new crimes against Armenians?

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

13:30 – Introduction

Kim Hartzner, MD

Managing Director of Mission10forty

Dr. Hartzner will introduce the conference theme. With over three decades of humanitarian aid experience in Armenia, including the establishment of a hospital in Southern Armenia, his insights into Armenia's struggles are invaluable.

13:35 – Historical Context
Matthias Bjørnlund
Danish Historian

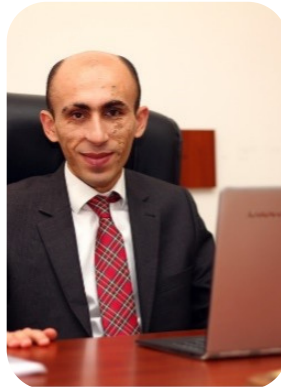

Bjørnlund will provide a historical overview of Denmark's relationship with Armenia and the Armenian genocide's implications. His expertise includes translating Danish documents on the genocide and working with Holocaust and Genocide Studies.

13:45 – Importance of Recognition
Vahagn Avedian, PhD
Peace and Conflict Researcher

Dr. Avedian will discuss the necessity of recognizing the Armenian genocide for justice and reconciliation. He'll also explore how politicians can engage in historical disputes.

14:00 – Artsakh’s Struggle
Artak Beglaryan
Former State Minister of Artsakh

Blinded by a landmine explosion at six, Beglaryan will share his journey and insights into Artsakh’s quest for independence.

14:15 – Danish Perspectives from Armenia
Anders Fogh Rasmussen
Former Prime Minister of Denmark and
Secretary General of NATO
Founder and Chair of Rasmussen Global

Joining via video from Armenia, Fogh Rasmussen will briefly outline his purpose there and share his perspective on the situation in the country.

14:25 – Humanitarian Situation
Raffi Doudaklian
Country Director of World Vision, Armenia

Doudaklian will share insights on the ongoing humanitarian work of supporting the refugees from Nagorno Karabakh, supported by the Danish NGO Mission10forty.

14:35 – France's Support
