

Solvay releases its 2025 annual integrated report

The Group confirms its robust model through strategic and sustainability progress

Brussels, March 24, 2025 - 5:45 pm CET

Solvay has released its Annual Integrated Report, which provides an overview of the company's financial, environmental, and societal performance for 2025.

This comprehensive document serves as a key reference for stakeholders, highlighting Solvay's achievements and delivery on its strategy as a leader in Essential Chemistry. It illustrates how the Group's unique Essential model and strategy enabled Solvay to stay the course in a challenging environment.

Throughout 2025, Solvay advanced its strategic and sustainability commitments, strengthened its competitiveness and accelerated its transformation, while delivering more sustainable solutions to its customers. The report also outlines the resilience of its results and the transformation of the company's culture, operating model and governance. It features detailed Financial statements and Sustainability statement (prepared in accordance with the EU Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive - CSRD).

The 2025 report, including the ESEF version, is available on Solvay's website in both English and French. The 2025 report on payment to governments is also available in the Regulated news section of Solvay's website.
