Company Announcement No. 45 - inside information - Aalborg

Seluxit is initiating the recruitment of a new CSO (Chief Sales Officer) to strengthen our sales efforts and to increase our focus on the energy segment. Seluxit has chosen Unique Human Capital to assist with the process.

CEO Daniel Lux, Seluxit:

“We have more than 500,000 devices on our IoT platform that runs extremely reliably and with great security. We have large customers who use our IoT solutions and we are seeing increasing growth in the IoT segment. We have good, well-proven solutions that can handle a lot of devices and large amounts of data - and we are competitive on price.

We will now strengthen our sales team by hiring a key person to help bring the solution out to many more customers. We get help from Unique Human Capital to find the right person. We expect a clarification within 3-6 months. ”

About Seluxit

Seluxit connects things to the internet to optimize systems, save resources and save money.

That makes sense for the economy, for the environment and for society.

Seluxit's unique standards-based approach to IoT reduces development time and development costs, and thereby minimizes risks. That gives our customers a fast path to both saving and earning money, because their solution enters the market quickly.

Our end-to-end IoT solutions create value in many ways including optimizing energy usage, improving service efficiency, and allowing for more effective training.
