Investor News No. 68/2025: Major municipality on Zealand Has Purchased an Expansion of Dataproces' MARS Platform

Dataproces has entered into a contract with a major municipality on Zealand for an expansion of its SaaS solution, MARS Mellemkommunal.

MARS is Dataproces' SaaS platform that provides digital support for, among other things, municipalities' administration of inter-municipal payments and reimbursements. The solution consolidates data from various municipal professional systems into a single, unified platform and creates a comprehensive overview of who must pay what—and when.

The platform automates large parts of the manual workflows traditionally associated with inter-municipal settlements. As a result, employees no longer need to handle complex spreadsheets, follow-ups, and data checks manually. Instead, MARS employs data-driven validation, quality assurance, and automated workflows.
