RISMA is excited to announce the launch of the Norwegian Transparency Act (Åpenhetsloven), a compliance solution designed for Norwegian and other companies doing business in the country.

As previously disclosed, RISMA has developed the compliance solution to The Norwegian Transparency Act to cater the needs of approximately 9,000 Norwegian companies mandated to report on Human Rights and decent work conditions under the OECD guidelines of Multinational Enterprises. In the context of the evolving European landscape, characterized by increased emphasis on ESG (Environment, Social, and Governance) criteria, the release of the Norwegian Transparency Act solution underscores RISMA's dedication to providing solutions that helps companies comply with regulations and increase their operational resilience with governance solutions.

Lars Nybro Munksgaard, CEO & Founder, says:

"With the launch of The Norwegian Transparency Act, RISMA reinforces its commitment to offering our customers with governance solutions that integrate GRC and ESG ambitions and legal requirements. As sustainability-related compliance requirements gain momentum, our framework solutions for CSRD and the Norwegian Transparency Act propels us confidently into this dynamic market landscape."

RISMA's CSRD (Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive) solution was successfully introduced to the market in March 2023.
